VIRTUAL AND HANDS-ON COLLIDE AT PANORAMA FESTIVAL

Saturday, October 24, 5-9 pm | Main Line Art Center | FREE

As Panorama draws to a close, the energy goes through the roof as hundreds are expected to descend on Main Line Art Center in Haverford for the dynamic and interactive Panorama Festival and Digital Art Presentation on Saturday, October 24 from 5 to 9 pm. With a DJ spinning in the gallery; fire spinners, digital art projections, and food trucks out front; and innovative art experiences throughout the building, festival-goers should expect the unexpected!

Good for all ages, but ideal for ages 10 to adult, the Panorama Festival epitomizes the theme of the two-month happening, offering experiences spanning from classic image-based mediums like printmaking and photography, to new modes of art-making like gaming design. Festival-goers can gather inspiration from the highly accomplished artists featured in Modern Utopias, and then head into the art studios throughout the building to create works of art. Using their own digital or smartphone cameras and the Center's new Digital Lab, attendees can also make digital artwork like photographs, animations, or short video clips to upload to the Center's virtual exhibition, Mytopia, which will be on view on mainlineart.org in December.

The excitement of the Panorama Festival is not limited to the confines of the Art Center. Outside, artist Tim Portlock will light up the night with a presentation of site-specific digital art viewable from the Center's newly established Sensory Garden and on the front of its historic building. The presentation kicks off Main Line Art Center's new Digital Artist in Residency Program. The application process for next year's Digital Artist in Residency position will open in the Spring of 2016.

The focal point of Panorama 2015, Modern Utopias presents compelling visions of modern existence, human potential, and virtual realities through works by Marjan Moghaddam (New York, NY), Noah Addis (Columbus, OH), and Nicole Patrice Dul (Philadelphia, PA). The artists cleverly investigate modern culture, international politics, and existential dilemmas through the camera lens, printed imagery, and digital technology. Reaching for the sublime, they invite viewers to interact with and respond to notions of utopia while defining personal visions of the future.
